On the New Account screen, make sure IMAP is blue, then enter your information. The username is your full email address. Once you have entered all the information on this screen, tap next, this will start the verification process. A message will pop-up regarding SSL, tap yes, verification will begin again, the question will appear again, tap yes. If the account has been set-up correctly, you will see green check marks to the right of each line. Then click done. Your account should now be set-up.
